STEM TALES

In 2022, the library received notice that we were selected to take part in a new initiative from the National Science Foundation, Twin Cities PBS, and StarNet Libraries. The focus of this project would be to bring STEM education to informal learning settings such as libraries to focus specifically on young learners (ages 4-8). Through this project, we have partnered with the Alfred Montessori School to host a series of STEM programs to the community. Tentative dates for these programs are February 22, March 21, April 25, and May 23. Please stay tuned to our social media pages, website, and be on the look out for flyers coming soon!
